New evidence found that Passamaquoddys want a casino here

By MICHAEL DANIELS

A civil lawsuit current before the Cumberland County Superior Court has provided fresh evidence that as early as 1994 the Passamaquoddy Indian Tribe was discussing plans for developing a full-scale gambling casino in Albany Township.

In September of 1996, the tribe announced that it planned to revive its on-again, off-again plan for developing a high-stakes bingo hall on 18 acres of tribe-owned land in Albany. And in May of the following year the tribe applied to the Maine Land Use Regulation Commission for the necessary permissions.

At two meetings in May of 1994, the tribe's attorneys "discussed the Tribe's desire to expand the Gaming Project into a full-service casino and requested that Forrest Associates perform additional analysis with respect to other gaming opportunities, such as off-track betting."

FROM AN AFFIDAVIT FILED IN CUMBERLAND COUNTY SUPERIOR COURT

The bingo hall would operate for 27 weekends a year.

Local residents immediately opposed the plan, both because of its social and environmental impact, and because they were convinced the bingo-hall proposal was merely a foot-in-the-door toward the tribe's ultimate goal of developing a full-blown, year-round casino operation in Albany.

But both at public meetings here and throughout the LURC hearing process the tribe's representatives and attorneys denied -- sometimes under oath -- that the tribe had any intentions beyond the bingo hall.

In an August 1997 letter to the editor published in The Citizen, Tribal Lt. Gov. William (Eric) Atwater dismissed local fears regarding a casino. "The fear mongers are way off the mark," Atwater wrote. "For any casino to be viable it needs to be in a densely populated area where the infrastructure, such as being in close proximity to a major airport, exists."

Atwater concluded his letter: "Those are the facts, this is the truth, and unless you are afraid of the truth (as some people are), you need fear nothing."

In a memorandum filed with LURC, the tribe protested that the bingo hall "opponents have waged

Boy to be charged in Telstar fire

By ALISON ALOISIO

A 17-year-old juvenile will be charged with Class A arson for setting a fire Monday in the boys' bathroom at Telstar High School.

The boy was interviewed and confessed Wednesday afternoon, according to Darren Tripp, Bethel police chief.

The juvenile will also be charged with Class E theft for stealing candles used to start the blaze, and for failure to report a dangerous fire (Class D).

The juvenile set a toilet paper dispenser on fire around noon on Monday. The fire burned up the side of the stall and singed the ceiling, traveling about 12 feet from its origin.

The charges followed a two-day investigation by Tripp and investigators Michael Keely and Joel Davis of the State Fire Marshall's Office.

The juvenile will be charged through the juvenile intake system. He has no previous record that Tripp is aware of.

An adult charged with Class A arson could face up to 40 years in prison, according to Tripp.

Murphy and Powell to buy Odd Fellows Hall

Renovation, retail space planned

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Odd Fellows Hall on Main Street in Bethel is about to get a facelift -- and, if the owners-to-be have their way, a new retail tenant.

David Murphy and Bruce Powell are in the process of buying the hall. It will be known as the Mt. Abram Building, after the structure's historic name, the Mt. Abram Lodge Odd Fellows Hall.

Built in 1890, the hall is currently owned and used by the Lions Club.

Initial plans include renovating the first floor for retail space, adding a front porch and painting the outside.

Murphy presented sketches of plans for the outside of the hall, and received praise from Stan Howe, executive director of the Bethel Historical Society and a Planning Board member.

The plans include replacing small windows on the first floor with larger ones that are similar to the original windows. "I wanted to say how pleased I am to see the front windows looking like they should," said Howe.

The board approved the plans, with several minor conditions.

Village to become small-wheel friendly

as of June 1, on all streets except those indicated here in red. The Board of Selectmen voted Monday to relax the current ordinance, which since 1990 has prohibited skateboarding, rollerblading and similar activities in all areas of the central village and on most of the major feeder roads as they approach the village. The vote to relax the ordinance followed a public hearing two weeks ago at which everyone who spoke supported the change. Police Chief Darren Tripp, who had previously opposed changing the ordinance, drafted the new plan. Tripp said later he had changed his mind following the public hearing. "The public spoke," he said. The revised ordinance applies to "non-motorized vehicles," including skateboards, roller skates, in-line (roller blade) skates, pole skis and like modes of transportation powered solely by human force. It prohibits all such activities on the streets indicated here and on sidewalks (with an exception on the sidewalks for children under 12 accompanied by a parent or guardian). It also prohibits reckless or dangerous operation of such vehicles, operation in a manner that impedes or inhibits the free flow of vehicular traffic, operation before sunrise or after sunset, and it requires that such vehicles be operated in single file and as far to the right of the roadway as possible. Unlike the 1990 ordinance, the revision approved by the selectmen includes fines for violations. The fines range as high as $100 for fourth and subsequent violations by persons 18 years old and older. For those under 18, the fines are assessed to the parent or guardian. The selectmen's vote to approve the revision was 4-1, with Bob Chadbourne voting against the change, "for safety reasons." Changes such as this, in the town traffic ordinance, are within the authority of the selectmen to make and do not require a Town Meeting vote. The new rules will be in effect from June 1, 1990 to June 1, 2000, at which time the selectmen will review the situation.

High lights of mini-golf plan lowered

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Bethel Planning Board last week took a dim view of Bill Dunton's plan to light his miniature golf course.

The course would be located at the Big Adventure Laser Tag site on Route 2, next to the Androscoggin River. Because much of the business would be expected at night, Dunton proposed illuminating the course with lights placed on five, 50-foot towers.

He hired a sports-lighting company to design lights that would minimize light "spillover" and glare.

But, said planner Jan Baker, the idea of "lighting something comparable to an arena for six months of the year until 11 o'clock at night is a daunting prospect for me for this town."

"The Maine Mall lights their parking lot with lights that are on 40-foot poles," she told Dunton, "and you're suggesting that we do 10 feet better than that on a piece of land adjacent to the Androscoggin River."

The light intensity on the miniature golf course would be about 15 foot-candles -- half that of a high school football field, according to the lighting company.

As for the aesthetic appearance of the poles, Dunton argued that five tall poles would be less offensive than 10 shorter ones -- the number that would be required if the height was lowered to 30 feet. Ten light towers, he said, would give the appearance of a "forest" of poles.

He also said many people in the area are looking forward to having miniature golf. His Laser Tag business has already brought more people and added business into town, according to Dunton.

The board, he said, should "look

Greenwood to pave over old sidewalk

By ALISON ALOISIO

Liability won out over history Tuesday, as Greenwood selectmen decided to pursue paving over the sidewalk at the Town Office.

The concrete walk -- believed to have been installed early in the century -- has extensive cracks and heaves in its surface. The condition is so poor that the town's insurance agent expressed concern about people tripping, according to Carol Whitman, town manager.

She also said that several years ago, a work crew planned to remove part of the walk when they replaced the steps to the building. But, said Whitman, an unknown party objected and the sidewalk was left intact.

Selectman Al Curtis suggested the town now pave over the walk. "The liability of the town is worth more than the sentimental value of a few sidewalks," he said.

The selectmen decided to research the cost of hot-topping the walkway.

Boat ramp, culvert eroding

Selectmen also decided to contact the Department of Environmental Protection regarding erosion near the town's boat ramp and around a nearby road culvert on the Howe Hill Road.

Boat activity near the dirt ramp and swimming in the area of the culvert have washed away sur-

THE FORCE WAS WITH THEM--These three young men took no chances on getting a ticket to "Episode 1: The Phantom Menace" on opening night yesterday (Wednesday) at the Casablanca. They showed up to wait in the entryway shortly after lunchtime -- for a movie that was to start at 6:45 p.m. From left are Greg and Marc Weston of Norway and Howdy Rice of Bethel. The Westons traveled to Bethel for the movie because it will not open in Norway for several days. Their wait at Casablanca was well orchestrated -- another family member was scheduled to bring them pizza at supertime. To pass the time, they read Star Wars magazines with Rice and exchanged stories. Marc said the Force must have been with them, because, he said, "We got here first." When he and Greg were young, they saw the original Star Wars movie 13 times at the Magic Lantern in Bridgton. Howdy has also seen it many times, but not when it first came out -- he was only three.

A FANTASIC JOB

To the Editor:
On a recent visit to Bethel, I was fortunate enough to be invited to the REACH Spring Benefit Fashion Show. What an enjoyable and fun afternoon. The organizers and sponsors did a fantastic job of putting everything together. The show was quite entertaining as well as interesting and educational. The beautiful setting and delicious luncheon added to the well orchestrated affair. I applaud the Bethel community and all of those involved for hosting such a successful event for a worthwhile cause.

Dangerous times

By MIKE BROWN
This is a very dangerous time in Augusta. Legislators are gazing out windows into the May sun wishing they were out rather than in. The session end cannot come too soon for the lawmakers. And therein lies a potential carte blanche menu problem that serves up and passes dangerous legislation.
Last week the state's Revenue Forecasting Committee "found" another $57 million to spend on new programs. The found money wasn't found at all. It was primarily the $60 million give or take a few cents that CMP must pay in taxes from its sale to Florida Power & Light.
Of course, the sale has been known for months and so has the sales tax coming from the sale. The forecasting committee just found it. (Can we expect that the forecasting committee will soon plug into revenues the billions not yet received by Maine from the tobacco settlement to spend on new programs?)
Dangerous times.
Sitting on the appropriations table before the found CMP bonanza was some $200 million, which the Republicans more rightfully call over-collection of taxes.
With all this record money taxes pouring in, or projected to be poured into Augusta, one would think that the source, the taxpayers, would get a break. Like lowering the sales tax to 5 percent, killing the five-cent fuel tax increase, burying a 50 percent raise for legislators, and trimming hundreds of other tax increases off the state's sugar daddy tree.
But no, the D's have enough new programs in the fire to not only spend the $260 million or so on the Part 2 budget, but pump up the whole state bureaucracy into la-la land. If the D's get their way, and they probably will with majorities in both Houses and Gov. King in their pocket, the taxpayers are about to be stiffed -- again.
Dangerous times.
Gov. King is playing to popular applause by saying he sides with the R's to roll back the sales tax to 5 percent. Well, he's a wet finger in the wind ally. King knows perfectly well that a series of re-projections places the automatic 8 percent increase in state revenues close to the chopping block so that the state would have no choice but to cut to 5 percent. Hey, it's the law.
But King has a caveat with his fickle finger. Wipe out the automatic 8 percent increase statute.
Dangerous times.
And look how the DOT played its "shortfall" pressure hand to strong-arm a 5 percent fuel tax increase which King supports along with the Maine Municipal and swarm of other good roddy lobby groups. DOT did not put the $45 million in its biennium budget for Local Road Assistance (LRAP) which is a normal DOT budgeting item.
And so without an infusion of new revenues -- a 5 percent fuel tax increase, that is, -- the DOT will have to decide to either put the LRAP out to bond or cut other DOT programs to give the Maine towns and cities the money for local roads. Call it roadmail.
Dangerous times.
Legislators aren't only creating new programs for new money but fooling around with old programs that work like the 1992 reform of workers' comp laws. The ones that former Gov. McKernan insisted on and instead got blamed for shutting down the government. Most of his reforms are now laws.
Now there are about 30 unresolved bills to whack away at workers' comp. If all were passed, which they will not, it would cost businesses some $80 million a year. Comp costs have dropped by 46 percent over the past five years. Maine has gone from the second highest workers' comp costs in the country to 23rd. No quick super glue needed here to fix something that ain't broke.
Dangerous times.
Of course, most of the legislative leadership, the biggest spenders in the state's history, will be term-limited and out of Augusta next term -- so who will be accountable for the hefty increase in future taxes?
Dangerous times.

NEW MANAGER--Scott Cole has been named Bethel's new town manager. He is expected to start work June 1. Cole's initial contract with the town calls for him to be paid at an annual rate of $42,000 for his first six months on the job, and at a rate of $50,000 a year for the next 19 months. (The length of Cole's contract was set at 25-months so that its end will coincide with the end of the town's fiscal year, according to Dutch Dresser, chairman of the Board of Selectmen. Augusta Roll Call Report

by Steven Stycos

Each month while the Maine Legislature is in session, the Augusta Roll Call Report will detail the key votes of our area's legislators during the previous month.

The Roll Call Report is intended to help voters decide whether how well their elected representatives are representing the people who elected them. The Citizen urges its readers to clip and save these reports and refer to them later this year when candidates for state Representative and state Senator are seeking votes.

The Roll Call Report is researched and written by investigative reporter Steven Stycos using official House of Representatives and Senate documents.

While state Sen. Richard Bennett (R-Oxford) and state Rep. Arlan Jodrey (R-Bethel) voted to ban smoking in Maine restaurants, they are skeptical of other bills being pushed by tobacco opponents.

The most important issue is how to spend the estimated $60 million a year Maine will receive from the settlement of its lawsuit against the tobacco companies. House and Senate Democratic leaders want to pass legislation by June reserving most of the money for health care, particularly smoking prevention programs, expansion of the elderly prescription drug program and health insurance for the uninsured. But Bennett, Jodrey and some other Republicans are skeptical.

Although Bennett says it would be all right to fund health care, he opposes permanently reserving the money for health programs. "We should treat that money like any money that comes in the general fund," he says, and have the Legislature decide how to spend it every two years. "Priorities change," he explains.

A consistent advocate of tax cuts, Bennett adds that because the settlement is repaying taxpayers for the cost of treating tobacco-related illnesses under the Medicaid program, the "most compelling" use for the money would be reducing taxes.

Jodrey simply says that he wants to wait until the state has the money in hand before deciding how to spend it.

Neither Bennett nor Jodrey are advocating additional restrictions on tobacco, but they will be voting on at least one before the legislative session ends. The Health and Human Services Committee has approved a bill to prohibit counter displays of single packs of cigarettes. If cigarettes are put behind the counter out of customers' reach, tobacco opponents say, fewer children will be able to steal them. But Jodrey is skeptical the bill will accomplish much because youth smokers will find other ways to get cigarettes.

Bennett and Jodrey are more enthusiastic about legislation sponsored by conservative state Rep. Paul Waterhouse (R-Bridgton) to ban the use of juveniles in cigarette sting operations. Currently, the state pays some 50 children under the age of 18 $7.50 an hour to try to buy cigarettes without identification, according to Sarah Haggerty, program manager of the state-run Partnership for a Tobacco Free Maine. When the kids succeed in buying cigarettes, the storeowner is charged with illegally selling to minors.

"There shouldn't be young folks in harm's way," says Jodrey, adding that he was upset to hear from a storeowner that a sting operation was done on his vending machine. Bennett is also sympathetic to Waterhouse's bill, saying law enforcement should concentrate on other problems. "Police officers ought to stop kids standing on the street corner smoking and take away their cigarettes," he says, "that would be more effective than using teenagers as bait to entrap store owners."

But Haggerty argues that the program has worked well. Last year all Maine stores were inspected once, she says, and 7 percent were caught selling to minors, down from 15 percent the year before. In 1994, before store owners were required to check the identification of cigarette purchasers, 40 percent of Maine stores were caught selling to minors, Haggerty says.

The entire Democratic and Republican legislative leadership has endorsed a bill to clarify the ban on legislative fundraising during the legislative session (see Senate vote 5), except Senate Minority Leader Jan Amero (R-Cumberland) and Assistant Senate Minority Leader Richard Bennett.

Supporters say the bill merely allows legislators to go to political party fundraisers during the session and permits invitations to advertise their attendance. But Bennett says what supporters are calling a "clarification," is really "a huge loophole you could drive a Brink's armored car full of campaign funds through."

Current law is designed to prevent legislators from raising money from business and labor groups who have legislation pending before the Legislature. Bennett worries the clarification bill will allow lobbyists to influence bills by channeling money through political parties. He predicts there will be many attempts to circumvent the Maine Clean Elections Act, which in 2000 will govern elections for the first time.

Below is a summary of major votes taken so far this year by the Legislature. Also listed in the chart is the percentage of roll call votes for which the legislator was present by mid-April. (A total of 58 roll call votes in the Senate and 82 in the House of Representatives).

SENATE

Prohibit Lower Severance Pay: 3/4/99 vote on LD 476, sponsored by state Sen. Michael Michaud (D-Penobscot), to prohibit employers from negotiating less severance pay with their workers than required by state law. Unions argue the legislation will close a loophole and guarantee all Maine workers receive fair severance pay if their factories close. Opponents say companies and workers should be free to negotiate lower severance pay. The bill passed 20-13 and became law.

No Smoking In Restaurants: 3/25/99 vote on LD 1349, sponsored by state Rep. Mark Etnier (D-Harpswell), to ban smoking in restaurants. Supporters say restaurant employees and non-smokers should not suffer the health risks of second-hand smoke, but opponents argue against government interference in private business. The bill passed 28-6 and became law.

Cut Income Tax on Pensions: 4/14/99 vote on LD 146, sponsored by state Rep. Kevin Glynn (R-South Portland), to exempt the first $25,000 of a person's pension from the Maine income tax, costing the state treasury about $60 million a year. Supporters say Maine's elderly deserve a tax break, but opponents say the proposal is too expensive and would benefit many rich taxpayers. The bill was defeated 12-19.

Penalties for Not Registering for Draft: 4/15/99 vote on LD 230, sponsored by state Rep. Joseph Brooks (R-Winterport), to prohibit people who do not register with the Selective Service from working for state government, attending state colleges or receiving student loans. Supporters say those who break the law and do not register should be penalized. Opponents say the state should not enforce federal laws and note that the penalties will particularly hurt those who do not register because they dropped out of high school. The bill was defeated 10-19.

Ease Legislative Fundraising: 4/13/99 vote on LD 1655, sponsored by state Senate President Mark Lawrence (D-York), to allow legislators to attend party fundraisers during the legislative session. The bill is needed, supporters say, to insure that legislators can attend fundraisers sponsored by their political parties. But opponents say it will enable lobby groups to buy influence while the Legislature is in session by contributing to political parties. The bill passed 18-13.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Prohibit Lower Severance Pay: 3/11/99 vote on LD 476 (see Senate vote 1 above). The bill passed 90-57.

No Smoking in Restaurants: 3/23/99 vote on LD 1349 (see Senate vote 2 above). The bill passed 100-48.

Cut Income Tax on Pensions: 4/8/99 vote on LD 146 (see Senate vote 3 above). The bill passed 106-37.

Penalties for not Registering for Draft: 4/15/99 vote on LD 230 (see Senate vote 4 above). The bill passed 83-63.

Ban Use of Kids to Enforce Tobacco Laws: 3/10/99 vote on an amendment to the budget, proposed by state Rep. Paul Waterhouse (R-Bridgton), to prohibit the Maine attorney general from using juveniles in sting operations to enforce the prohibition on selling cigarettes to minors. Waterhouse says minors should not be used to entrap storeowners. Some opponents of the amendment say using juveniles is the most effective way to catch storeowners who are selling cigarettes to kids, others merely thought it should not be part of the budget. The amendment failed 60-85, but has been introduced as a separate bill.

Eliminate appropriations Committee: 1/14/99 vote on a proposed rules change, sponsored by state Rep. Paul Volenik (D-Sedgewick), to eliminate the Appropriations Committee. Volenik argues that the committee has too much power and a more democratic process would divide budget writing among the Legislature's other committees. Opponents say rank and file legislators have been given more say over the budget in recent years. The amendment failed 29-114.

End Affirmative Action: 4/13/99 vote on LD 703, sponsored by state Rep. Adam Mack (R-Standish) and co-sponsored by state Sen. Norman Ferguson (R-Oxford), to prohibit the state from giving preference to minorities in hiring, granting of contracts or admission to state schools. Supporters say minorities should not get special consideration, but opponents say preferences are needed to overcome discrimination and unsure minorities are represented in state schools and jobs. The bill was defeated 33-96.

Briefly

Bethel ballot change considered

BETHEL--The town will look into the possibility of altering ballots that have been printed for the June 15 Board of Assessors election, following the death of candidate Bob Saunders. Saunders, who died May 8, took out nomination papers for re-election and his name appears on the ballot. Town manager Phil Tarr said if Saunders' name is left on the ballot, people may vote for him, unaware that he has passed away.

Grafton crash kills two

GRAFTON TOWNSHIP--Two travelers from Quebec were killed Saturday when their southbound car went off the road on Route 26 and struck a tree. Leonard Barth, 81, of Point Claire apparently fell asleep and crossed the northbound lane. The car continued traveling in the soft road shoulder for about 200 feet before it hit the tree. The 8 a.m. accident also killed Barth's wife, Helen, 79.

OCRSWC recycling up

GREENWOOD--The 18 member towns in the Oxford County Regional Solid Waste Corp. saved 28,182 trees from paper production in 1998. They also saved 115 tons of iron ore. The resources were preserved as a result of the towns' recycling efforts. Overall, material was recycled at a rate of 48 percent, according to Marie Bartlett, Education and Marketing Director for OCRSWC. That represents an increase of 271.63 tons over the previous year. Overall, OCRSWC members saved $164,470 for the year through recycling, based on an average disposal fee of $85 per ton of trash. The state, said Bartlett, wants towns to reach a 50 percent recycling rate. Despite 1998's improved effort, prices for many recycled materials have dropped -- offsetting some of the savings generated through recycling. The price for recycled tin, for example, went from $61 per ton to $11.

New secretary in Andover

ANDOVER--Joan Carney was recently hired as Andover town secretary. She replaces Wendy Green, who serves as selectman. "We had five excellent applicants," said selectman Dick Plantier. Carney has worked previously for the town, he said. She began her duties Tuesday.

Ellsworth goes to West Paris schools

WEST PARIS--Melanie Ellsworth of Locke Mills has been hired as half-time principal of the Agnes Gray and Legion Memorial schools. She worked as a teacher trainer in the Reading Recovery program in SAD44 beginning in 1991, and also taught elementary school in the district prior to that. She has also taught graduate level literacy courses in education. She will replace William Koch, dividing her time between administration and teaching.

Newry will come to Newry

NEWRY--Town officials plan to host a lunch June 2 for a contingent of visiting businesspeople from Newry, Ireland. The group will be in the eastern U.S. and Canada researching potential trade opportunities. The selectmen also plan to invite representatives from the state.

Never say never

BETHEL--A "St. Never's Day Porch and Yard Sale" is scheduled for May 22 at the Robinson House on Broad Street to benefit the Bethel Historical Society's Capital Campaign. (The sale's title stems from the notion that this is the yard sale you never got around to having, according to BHS.) Among items available for sale will be furniture, appliances and small items, including collectibles. The sale will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Transit study looks at routes

BETHEL--A local committee studying area transit system options has put together several possible bus routes for consideration. The routes are: Bethel to Sunday River Ski Resort; Rumford to Sunday River (for commuters); Bethel to the Jordan Bowl area within Sunday River; Bethel to Mt. Abram/Locke Mills. A new system could be managed municipally, through private enterprise or with the Western Maine Transportation Service. Federal funding for the project may be an option. The issue is under study with funding from Bethel, the Chamber of Commerce, Sunday River and the Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments.

East-west highway discussed

BETHEL--Only a handful of people turned out last week for a presentation regarding a proposed east-west highway that could travel through the Bethel area. Sandy Blitz, executive director of the Bangor-based East-West Highway Association, said his organization's current purpose is to build consensus in favor of such a highway. The group estimates if the route were built, Maine could have access to a market of 20 million people. Several residents, however, expressed skepticism regarding the benefits of the project, saying a four-lane road would also bring the disadvantages of interstate highways. The Maine Department of Transportation and the State Planning Office are currently doing studies of environmental and economic impacts of the proposal. The studies are expected to be done this summer.

Grafton trail funded

GRAFTON TOWNSHIP--The Maine Outdoor Heritage Fund has awarded a $16,000 grant to fund initial planning and detailed design work for a new 25-mile semi-wilderness footpath in the Grafton Notch region. The path would serve as an alternative to a heavily-used section of the Appalachian Trail, and would traverse public and private land connecting a series of peaks in Grafton Notch. The trail would likely start in the area of Old Speck Mountain and end near Bald Pate Mountain. The Grafton Loop Trail Project Coalition will be a partner in the project. Work will begin next year, with completion scheduled for 2001.

River cleanup planned

BETHEL--Ninth-graders from Telstar High School will participate June 2 in the ninth annual National River Cleanup Week. The effort is coordinated by America Outdoors, the national outfitters' association, to demonstrate the importance of clean waterways and encourage the preservation of community streams, lakes and rivers. Using rafts provided by Unicom Expeditions, the Telstar students will remove refuse from the Androscoggin River from Gilead to West Bethel. Another group of students will clean the Little Androscoggin from West Paris to Snows Falls in canoes provided by Wild River Adventures.

Newry cleans up, too

NEWRY--The annual Newry Cleanup Days have been scheduled for June 5 and 6. Residents may bring tires, white goods, old furniture and metal to parking lot 5 at Sunday River Ski Resort for disposal. No household trash will be accepted.

Bridge under repair

GREENWOOD--Repair work began this week on Britton's Iron Bridge carrying Route 219 in Greenwood, according to the Maine Department of Transportation. The project calls for replacement of the wearing surface, or top layer of the bridge deck. The existing surface is deteriorated to the point it no longer protects the remainder of the deck from water and winter road salt. It is expected to take eight weeks to complete the work. Motorists approaching the bridge are urged to slow down and watch for directions from flaggers.

Correction: Amy Green's project on computer software/graphic design should have been included in a May 13 "Briefly" account regarding Telstar's Top Ten Career Week projects.

From the Bethel Police Log:

Asthma, not traffic, downs skateboarder

At 8:54 p.m. on May 18 police responded to the intersection of Route 26 and Route 2 for a report of a vehicle and pedestrian accident. On arrival, it was determined that a skateboarder had suffered an asthma attack.

Saturday, May 15

At 1:35 p.m. police responded to the Northwest Bethel Road for a motor vehicle accident. The driver admitted to operating the car, and that she was under suspension. April Sprague, 28, was given a summons for operating after suspension.

At 10:46 p.m. a caller reported a group of juveniles engaged in a fight on Railroad Street. On arrival the officer was told by one of the subjects he had been involved in a verbal altercation with another subject and a physical altercation with a third. The subjects were told to clear the area.

Tuesday, May 18

At 8:40 a.m. police were called to Telstar High School for a report of a student who refused to leave a classroom. After the officer arrived the student departed the school to serve a suspension.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

Songo Pond Beach Hearing

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Songo Pond Beach Committee was scheduled to hold a public hearing yesterday evening (after The Citizen's presstime) on the status of its investigation into the possibility of the town purchasing the beach.

The three acre property, with approximately 900 feet of shore-front, is on the market at an asking price of $425,000.

The committee, however, believes the buyer would sell the beach to the town for $350,000.

The town's assessed valuation on the property is $82,000, but a recent independent appraisal, conducted at the committee's behest, put the value at $271,000.

MISS POPPY--Ashley Sabins, 7 of Bethel has been chosen by the Bethel American Legion Auxiliary as this year's "Miss Poppy." On Friday Ashley, accompanied by her parents, Joseph and Nancy Sabins, will be on Main Street receiving donations. Proceeds go to help veterans and their families. The poppies are made by veterans. The Auxiliary provides materials and volunteers. The veterans making the poppies are paid a small amount for each poppy. For some it is their only income. The program has been an Auxiliary project for more than 70 years. Ashley is shown here with Phil Tarr, Bethel town manager.

rounding soil, Whitman said.

The selectmen considered banning swimming near the culvert, but were reluctant to take that step. Instead, Whitman will research the possibility of placing riprap around both the boat ramp and the culvert.

In other business, a report that a large number of junk cars had been deposited recently in a field off the Howe Hill Road prompted selectmen to ask CEO John Gauthier to investigate. Whitman said a resident told her "many, many" stripped cars had been hauled to the site.

If the party's intent is to create a junkyard, she said, both state and town approval are needed.

Selectmen also hired a new employee and gave raises to three others.

They appointed Everett Chase, who also serves as animal control officer, as temporary sexton for the town's cemeteries. He will serve until the next Town Meeting.

Road foreman Alan Seames received a dollar-an-hour raise and the two highway workers a 75-cent an hour raise. The new wages will be $11.50 for Seames and $10.25 for the workers.

Curtis abstained on the vote because he is one of the highway workers.

Casino

a campaign of fear, incessantly attacking a "casino" (rather than a 2,000-seat bingo facility)."

In November 1997 LURC approved the project. (Opponents appealed and the approval was later overturned, on largely technical grounds, in Superior Court. The matter is now before the Maine Supreme Court.)

Less than a month after the LURC decision documents came to light that proved the "fear mongers" had good grounds for their apprehensions.

The loan agreement between the tribe and its financier for the project was obtained by Albany Attorney Jeff Rosenblatt, by means of a Freedom of Information request.

Key parts of the document were redacted (blacked out) but much of the writing was still readable when placed in front of a strong light.

It revealed the tribe already had a commitment from its backer to finance the expansion of the Albany operation beyond bingo, that there was explicit mention in the contract of a possible "Class III" (casino) operation, and that up to 171 acres of contiguous land was potentially available for the expansion of gambling operations.

That loan agreement was dated May 26, 1996, but it now appears at least two years prior to that the tribe had been discussing opportunities for gambling expansion -- beyond bingo -- in Albany.

In a case currently before the Cumberland County Superior Court, Forrest Associates -- which describes itself as "in the business of providing business and commercial advice to entrepreneurs" -- is suing the Passamaquoddy Tribe for $262,339 the firm claims to be owed, in part for a feasibility study of the tribe's gambling operations at the Albany site.

The Forrest Associates' case was discovered by chance by Albany Improvement Association President Doty Duddy and AIA attorney (and part time Albany resident) Margaret Wille when they were reviewing court documents related to the current Supreme Court case.

According to the affidavit of William D. Forrest, in March of 1994 the firm was contacted by tribe attorney Thomas Tureen and, after some initial meetings, it "committed extensive resources toward the completion of field work, market research and financial analysis," all relating to the expansion of gambling operations in Albany.

At meetings on May 23 and 26, 1994, the affidavit claims; the tribe's attorneys "discussed the Tribe's desire to expand the Gaming Project into a full-service casino and requested that Forrest Associates perform additional analysis with respect to other gaming opportunities, such as off-track betting."

Forrest Associates then prepared a "Comprehensive Plan" for development of gambling opportunities at the site, according to the affidavit, and on August 10 that plan was accepted by the Passamaquoddy Tribal Council.

On August 31 the firm met again with the tribe's attorneys, who "advised of the importance of acquiring additional land and having that land placed 'in trust' for the purpose of expanding the Gaming Project into a full-service casino."

In another document in the case, a deposition of Gregory W. Sample, another attorney for the tribe, Sample is asked if the tribal council has discussed expanding the bingo operation to a casino.

"I think that -- I guess I would object on the grounds of attorney-client privilege. But I think it has been discussed," he replied.

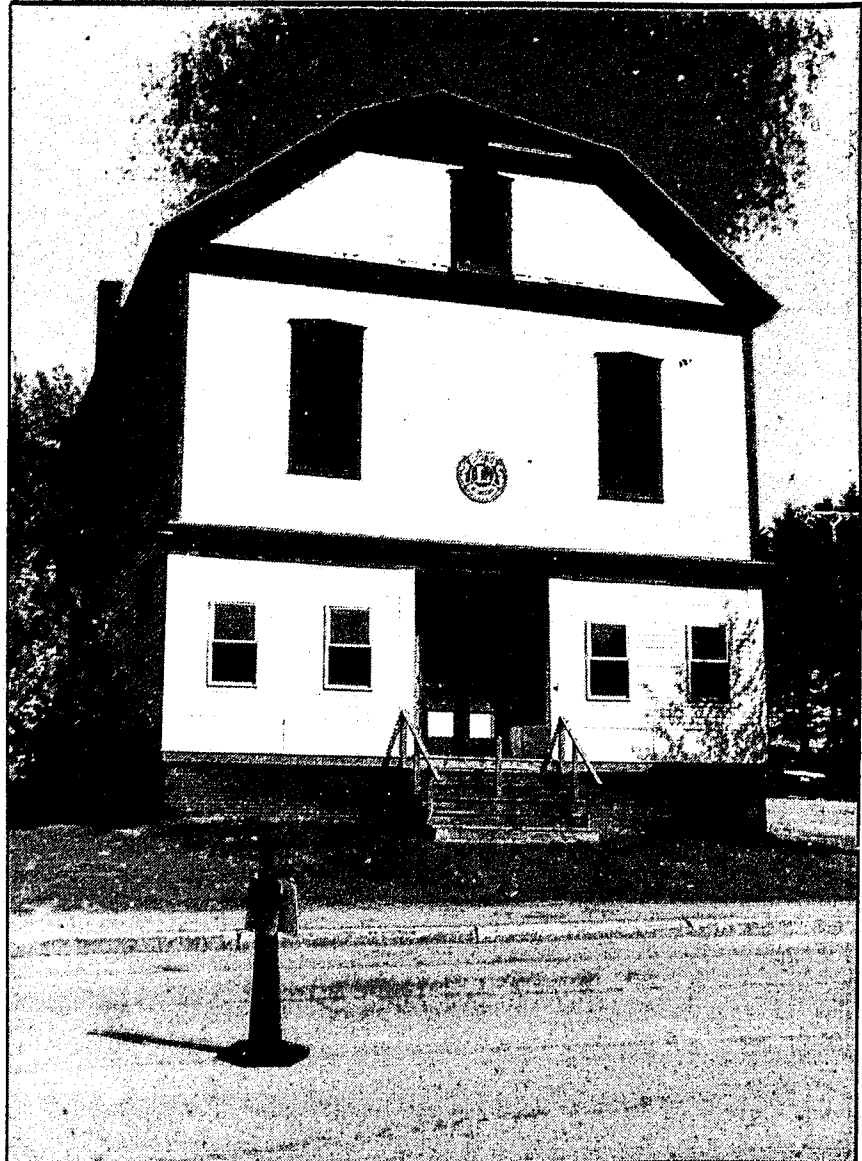

Sample was later asked a question relating to getting land in Albany put into trust (land must be in trust if it is to be used for Indian gaming).

"Did you tell Mr. Forrest that from a public relations standpoint it would be prudent to hold off on the proceeding with the development of the bingo project so as not to draw public attention to the trust process, to the process of putting that land in trust?"

Sample's reply was: "I can't recall a specific conversation along those lines, but I do recall thinking that the process of getting it taken into trust would be easier if there were no -- if it weren't a public issue about how it would be used."

Odd Fellows

"MT. ABRAHAM BUILDING"--Plans call for the Odd Fellows Hall on Main Street in Bethel to be renovated and rented out to a retail tenant. Shown above is the front of the building as it appears today.

Murphy said he hopes to have the first floor ready for a tenant by late summer.

Randy Bennett, another BHS historian, said Friday he also is happy with the plans, because they will bring the front of the building back closer to its original appearance.

Although the porch will be a new addition, Bennett believes the proper color scheme will successfully blend it with the main structure.

"It's a major landmark on Main Street, a very visible building," said Bennett. "It's one of the oldest commercial buildings left in Bethel. It deserves to have something nice happen to it."

The building's second floor also served as the display room for the Bethel Chair Co. at the turn of the century.

Murphy said he and Powell plan to coordinate with the historical society as much as possible in planning the details of the renovation.

Gould plans Hamlin alterations. The Planning Board will soon consider another old building up for renovation -- Gould Academy's Hamlin House. The structure is located in the Bethel Historic District.

Gould engineer Jim Sysko presented preliminary plans to the board last week. The school is proposing to alter the building to accommodate its admissions office. A sun porch is also planned.

Howe noted the town's comprehensive plan includes a section on the importance of preserving the architectural integrity of buildings in the historic district. He suggested the board ask the Maine Historic Preservation Commission to informally review renovation plans for buildings in the district.

A review, he said, might start people thinking about architectural integrity "before they do serious things to the historic district."

But the board stopped short of that step, saying there was no such provision in town ordinance. But, said planner David Brown, "it would be nice if the applicant volunteered" for the review.

Sysko said he was not authorized to make such a commitment, but he would check with the school administration.

The board will deal with the formal application at a future meeting.

Remember, Virginia Keniston, also, had the same surgery on Tuesday, the 18th.

Rhonda and Robert Lichtenstein and Ryan of South Portland visited with Randal and Sarah Stevens on Mother's Day weekend. Marilyn Parker of Milford, Conn., was also a visitor the past weekend.

Kenneth and Gwyneth Bohr visited with their daughter Gretchen and son-in-law Richard Courage in Great Barrington, Mass., over Mother's Day weekend. They attended the production of "Much Ado About Nothing." Their grandson, Stephen, had the male lead role. Granddaughter Emily was at home from Bard College in New York to attend the play. She prepared a lovely Mother's Day brunch for the family.

Roger and Lillian Conant and Jake, Lorena and Lance Tyler have returned from a week's vacation in Virginia Beach, Va. They were joined by Dan, Jeannine and Joshua Rand of Richmond, Va., for a visit. Jeannine and Joshua remained with the Conant family for the week.

Aaron Conant has employment at Mead Paper Company in Rumford and is living in Bethel.

Louise Vrieland, Moorestown, N.J., was a guest of Sue Farrar for 10 days. She came to attend Sue's graduation from U.S.M. on May 8. Louise and Sue were roommates in Manhattan for 10 years. Family, friends and classmates gathered at Sue's son Paul and his wife Andria's apartment in Portland to celebrate the occasion. After spending the night with them, Louise and Sue left for Boston, Louise's home town. They toured the city, attended the Shubert Theater and saw Bob Fosse's "Chicago," and stopped off in Portland for dinner at DiMillo's. They went to the Public Theater in Lewiston and saw Noel Coward's "Fallen Angels," where longtime student Amanda Jordan was stage manager. On Friday, they attended a very amusing production of "Little Shop of Horrors," in which four Spring Street Dance Theater students participated. Sue drove Louise to the airport in Portland on Saturday, and in the evening she attended a get-together at Jason and Naomi Fox Manjouride's home to celebrate Jason's graduation from U.M.F. She came home for some much needed rest but with happy memories.

Muriel Faudi was rushed to CMMC in Lewiston on Monday following a bad fall at her apartment in Sudbury Village.

Nancy Brown Vargiu of Tempio Pausania, Italy, is visiting with her parents, Jim and Beatrice Brown. Linda Foster, who has been with her parents for a few weeks, has returned to Pittsfield, Mass.

Carol Sweetser and daughter Kimberly of South Paris visited with Sarah and Randal Stevens on the weekend and brought a lovely Mother's Day cake.

Merrilee Ojeda received her bachelor of arts degree in social services at the University of Maine, Augusta, on Saturday, May 8, with a 3.76 average. Attending the graduation ceremony were her mother, Muriel Butters, her son Danny and her daughter Lisa. Also attending were her sister, Lottie Stevens, and nephew, Aaron Stevens from Bar Harbor.

Bud and Shirley Clough arrived at their home on the Flat road on Monday from Ft. Pierce, Fla., where they spent the winter months.

On Sunday, Cyndi Mills and Keith Davis held a family dinner and get-together in honor of Keith's brother Craig's birthday, at their home on Barker Road in West Bethel.

While Ginny Keniston is recovering from knee surgery, Mary Keniston will compile this column. Please call Mary at 824-2504 with your news.

The Bethel House

by Ruth Cummings

Congratulations to Pastor Rick and Peggy on their wedding anniversary, which is May 26.

Congratulations to Joshua Mowery for his shut-out game and to his teammates for the fine job in the field. I think their coach deserves some credit, too.

Marie Bartlett's mother spent the evening with Helena Bartlett recently while Paul and Marie had a night out.

Judy Lavers, Bethel House manager, was at the Bethel House on Friday.

Paul Bartlett took his mother to the doctor in Norway recently for her check up.

JoAnn Royer visited me a short time on Friday and brought me some delicious biscuits and some soup. That was very good, too.

Charlotte Cole of Greenwood visited her sister, Lillian Noyes, in Wilton on Friday and they dug a lot of dandelions. Lillian dug and cleaned some for me. Charlotte delivered them to me that night. All I had to do was wash them about three times. I cooked them and froze three pints. I ate a lot and gave some to some of my neighbors here. The greens certainly tasted good and so did the soup and biscuits from JoAnn.

There was a very good attendance at the Bethel Alliance Church on Mother's Day. Pastor Rick's message was "Weeping Mothers." There was a baby dedication for Emma Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shane Clark. Some mothers picked out their favorite hymn or chorus to be sung. Carla and Tracy Phillips sang a special number accompanied by Judy Webster on the piano. Carnations were given out to the ladies present.

To make my day really grand, Nancy and Sonny Cummings took me to Northland to supper and for a ride through the 13-mile woods. Their daughter, Rhonda Buker, and her husband, Raymond, and children, Darcie and Darren, also went and this made it even more enjoyable. I sure had a wonderful day.

Irene Russell spent Mother's Day weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gagnon and Nicole in Cumberland Center.

Helena Bartlett spent Mother's Day with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bartlett and June.

One of Olga Morgan's daughters and her husband brought Olga a beautiful hanging plant for Mother's Day.

Rebecca Ricker and Clara Whitman were shopping recently in Norway and Oxford and ate at Burger King.

There was a baby shower for Jen Bennett at the Bethel Alliance Church on Friday night.

Vada Glover visited me on Tuesday and we went to the Foodliner, bank and to Dr. Porter for a pressure check on my eyes, which was very good. Then we went to Ketner's for eye drops. They are so friendly at Ketner's just like they were at Preb's. We also went to Ames and had a lovely dinner at Barjo's. Of course we played cribbage. I gained two games from last week and now I am three ahead and we have played 217 games in 1999. I went to Dr. Liberti for my back treatment on Wednesday.

The remains of old Angus still stand and it is an eyesore now: I wish he would fall down.

Bruce Cummings lives in Anchorage, Alaska, and it came on TV there that Angus, the biggest snowman ever, was in Bethel, Mass. He immediately called the TV station and told them he was not in Bethel, Mass., but in Bethel, Maine.

K.C. Denton was at the Bethel House on Tuesday to do maintenance work.

East Bethel

The East Bethel Church Association will hold its annual meeting on May 24 at 7 p.m. at the church.

The East Bethel Cemetery cleanup will be on May 22 at 9 a.m. The rain date is May 23 at the same time. Bring something for lunch after the work is done and something to drink.

Roger and Louise Twitchell, with Polly Smith and Ruth Bethel attended the Bethel Senior Citizens Club annual meeting and dinner at the Town & Country Inn in Gorham, N.H., on May 12.

Roiann Twitchell flew to Norfolk, Va., recently to visit her daughter, whose husband is a Navy man.

Roger and Louise Twitchell attended the funeral of Lillian Curtis in West Paris on May 25.

Polly Smith visited Grace Smith at Norway Convalescent Home recently. Grace had broken her hip.

Emma Ordway and Joyce Swan of Rumford visited Polly Smith recently.

Clare Piawlock will celebrate a birthday on May 26.

Florence Hastings went to Colorado a while back to visit Chris and Pam Rowinski and family. Mrs. Dave Morton went with her.

Arlene Harrington returned on May 16 from Island Falls. She attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Dirk Smith, youngest son of Dawson and Judy Smith.

Arthur Hertell and Mary Bean attended a pool-side birthday party for Erlene Bean in Milton on May 16 at Mike and Heidi Bean's.

Ginny Aridas and Ashley returned to Holbrook, N.Y., on Monday after spending the past 10 days at her place. On Sunday we had a barbecue. Sandy, Vicky, Brant and Caroline Sanborn from North Conway; Walter, Kim, Vern and Walter Jr. Inman; Grampa Vern, and Nana all enjoyed the day.

Audrey Hadley is at her apartment after having been a patient at CMMC.

Phyllis Young returned to her home on Monday after spending the winter in Florida. I was hoping she would bring some of that warm weather with her, and I'm sure she would like it, too.

Forward Fellowship will meet on Monday, May 24, at 5 p.m. at the church. This is our annual out-to-eat night.

On Friday, May 21, there will be a potluck supper at 5:30 p.m. at the First Universalist Church. Gary Inman and Lesley Rowse will present a program on China, where they went last fall to get their second daughter, Ani. The public is invited. Please bring a salad, casserole or dessert to share.

Upton

by Eleanor LeCompte

It was a bird-lovers' paradise in Upton last week. Being situated on the eastern flyway for migrating songbirds, a different one is spotted every day. The male hummingbirds are back staking claims on feeders all over town. The feisty little fellows are very popular with the locals. The first one was spotted on Back Street by Ray and Vi Bernier on May 8. Most people had their feeders up and ready for their arrival. Joy Yarnell had one buzz her in the garden while Simone Lavallee had one trying to get nectar from a plastic hanging plant.

Other birds sighted this week were a pair of indigo buntings by Joy Yarnell and a bluebird by Ginny Williamson. My old friend, the kingfisher, has been quite active fishing in the cove.

Visitors in town over the weekend were Dan Corcoran and his two sons, Dan Jr. and Matt. David and Poksun Lane were in town for a little fishing and a lot of lawn mowing. Last year, they stocked their little pond with fish only to find that a blue heron devoured them all. Dwight and Joan Williamson spent the weekend at their camp. Lionel and Jeanette Roy were here to get a head start on their beautiful East "B" Hill garden.

Sunday, I visited the buffalo in Errol. There is a new addition to the herd. Three days ago a calf of undetermined sex was born. "It" is a beautiful golden brown and is about as big as a Chesapeake Bay Retriever. It can be seen from the road and makes for a nice side trip while visiting Errol.

The swimming season was opened rather early this year. Nicholas, Sam and Scott Lavallee, with another boy, jumped in the cold water. The screams could be heard a mile away. The record for the earliest dip in the river was made by Mary Douglass Davis. According to Buster Williamson, she swam the river right after ice-out. No one wants to equal or break her long-standing record.

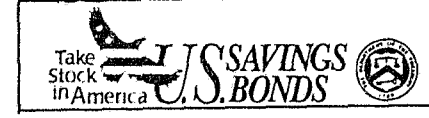

Laurie Brown was in town visiting her cousin, Deborah Sweetser, who moved into her home in Upton recently. Laurie and her son are making benches. Scenes of Upton will be inscribed on the top of the benches. So far, the church, school, Ladies Aid building, and Screw Auger Falls are depicted. She was looking for a picture of Hiawatha Homestead. Her work is unique, and very beautiful. Welcome home to Jim and Evelyn Kenny. They had a great time in Savannah.

Bob and Merna Monroe have a new dog. Their faithful friend, Lukie, died a few weeks ago. The new dog looks a lot like him, except that the brown areas are darker. Losing your dog hurts a lot. I hope the new one will bring them happiness.

The bird of the week is the ruby throated hummingbird of course.

Clean water...

It's more than just a pretty picture.

Clean water is essential for our tourism and fishing industries, our health and our recreation.

But Maine's water quality is in danger. Our lakes, rivers and coastal waters are threatened by pollution from run-off and toxic chemicals.

There are things you can do in your home and community to protect Maine's waters.

Andover

by Tina Farrington
Junior Poor was a guest of honor for his 80th birthday celebration on May 8. Family and friends from near and far gathered at the Town Hall for the Open House celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Herve Poulin and Mr. and Mrs. Yves Laflamme Beauceville, Quebec, Canada, were recently overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swain. While in the States, they visited cemeteries in Troy, Benton and Rumford Center.

Condolences are extended to the family of Learned Littlehale, who passed away last week.

A surprise 30th birthday party was given to Sharon Waite on Saturday, May 15, at Barb and Donnie Bailey's home.

The Faye Taylor Memorial Art show is seeking entries for this year's "Covered Bridges" theme. SAD44 elementary students (grades 1-6) are invited to enter the show. All entries must be received at the Dr. Moses Mason House by 3 p.m. on Friday, May 28. For details, contact the office at Andover Elementary School, or the Bethel Historical Society (824-2908). The exhibit will be open to the public on Saturday, May 29, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

May 24 will be the 1999-2000 kindergarten screening at AES from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. The APT will hold its final meeting of this school year on May 25 at 6:30 p.m. June 7 will be the district-wide Step-Up Day. June 8 will be the AES Field Day. There will be an ice cream social on June 9 at 9:45 a.m. and class night will be at 6:30 that evening at AES. June 11 will be the all-school field trip to Stony Brook Campground and will also be the final day of school for this year.

Don't forget the Andover Alumni Association Banquet on May 29. Telstar graduation will be held Friday, June 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the Telstar gymnasium.

Bryant Pond

by Alice Hoyt

Remember that Monday, May 31, is Memorial Day with a program and parade. The program starts at 1 p.m. at the Honor Roll. The Rev. John Grant will be speaker. All children, veterans, 4-H Clubs and scouts are invited to march along with the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, American Legion and Auxiliary and V.F.W.

Judith Grover Tent 17 Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War met on Monday evening, May 10. Thirteen members were present. The essays were in from Woodstock Elementary School fifth grade. The group had a hard job picking the best one. It was voted to give each one a Susan B. Anthony dollar and $5 to the winner, Chelsea Cozzolino. The winning essay will be read at the Memorial Day Program. Plans were finalized for the sale and Memorial Day. Forty-two calls were reported and it was reported that the flags have arrived. The Dudley cemetery has been cleaned up. Much thanks. Elena received the mystery package. The next meeting is June 14 with Marybeth and Beth Hoover on refreshment committee. Refreshments were served by Michele and Helvi Cary.

Some members of the W.H.S.

Alumni Association met at the home of Alice Hoyt on Wednesday to write invitations and make posters. The Woodstock Alumni Banquet will be held on Saturday, June 12, at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills. The banquet is at 6 p.m. Special guests will be 70-, 60- and 50-year alumni and Telstar seniors.

Good News Club meets at the Baptist Church each Tuesday at 6 p.m. Thursday is Women's Bible Study at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. Also on Thursday at 7 p.m. is Men's Discipleship Class. Each Saturday at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Channel TV is a re-broadcast of Sunday services and Bryant Pond Hour is on Thursday at 4 and 7 p.m.

On Mother's Day, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hoover and Marybeth entertained the following at a potluck dinner: Beatrice Farnum; Ken and Alice Hoyt; JoAnn, David, Ray and Shawn Crockett; Jim Hoyt; Lauretta Sanborn; Robert and Gwenn Hoyt; Leatrice, John and Helen Chase; Althea, Robert, Jennifer and Danny Stevens; and Andrew and Rhonda Chase.

Sympathy is extended to Bernice Swan and Genneth Berryment in the death of Donald Ryerson.

The Historical Society reflects life in Maine and New England about a century ago. It depicts Bryant Pond in its heyday. The old buildings, many of which are gone now, are represented in pictures. The artifacts of life then are preserved. The atmosphere of an age long gone is recreated. Visit the museum this summer on Saturdays from 1 to 4 p.m.

At the May meeting of the society, Basil Sequin spoke on Indians, their settlements and their commerce on the Androscoggin. Flowers decorated the museum. Donations came from Steve Chase and Evelyn Bean who gave an invitation to the inauguration of President Reagan and then Vice President Bush and also an invitation to the marriage of Senator Snowe. Curator Larry Billings gave a book on Maine. The society is a fine civic organization involved with community betterment. It cares about the area and its improvements.

COMMUNITY CALENDAR

To submit events for the Community Calendar, you may bring in your copy to The Bethel Citizen or call the office at 824-2444, by noon on Mondays.

THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY -- EVENTUALLY--Ethan Allred, 7, of Bethel caught this 17-inch large mouth bass recently while visiting his grandfather in Camden (Meganticook Lake). The fish, caught off the dock, had taken Ethan's dad's favorite lure and snapped two lines before the boy finally brought it in. Ethan thought the bass would be good eating -- but he also thought it was a female that might soon be laying eggs. He let the fish go free after getting the proof of his catch on film.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Hi readers. Roy Johnson is now working at Berlin City Motors. If you want a good deal on a vehicle, go see Roy. Edward Millett Jr. is also working there.

If you want to see something pretty, stop in to the Stoneham Post Office. I'm talking about the great big, red geranium that Bonnie has there. I never saw such a big, pretty blossom. She's had it for six years (the plant) and it's been blooming all that time.

Dean Saunders did some work for Frances Grant one day recently.

I just cleaned some nice trout (Thanks, Troy.), also some more dandelion greens, so you know what our supper will be. That's what you call living off the land, with no store-bought stuff there.

Gus Fillebrown and his crew have been busy putting new steel roofing on the Rescue Barn.

A tune has been going through my head lately and I couldn't pin it down to what it was, but just now looking at the church bulletin, I found out that it was "All Things Bright and Beautiful." It's a catchy tune. Glad that mystery is solved.

I attended the Oxford County Republicans' supper and meeting last night (Tuesday, May 11) at the Market Square Restaurant in South Paris. If anyone in the Stoneham area would like to go to these supper meetings, please let me know. There were 27 people there. The room was just right -- not too large and not too small and it was just like family. The supper was very good.

Evelyn Bean gave a nice tribute for Jake Immonen, who passed away in April of this year.

The speaker of the evening was Senator Jim Libby from District 34, which was very interesting. Representatives from Senator Snowe's office were there and spoke a few words to us. Also attending were Senators Tom Winsor, Norman Ferguson and Rick Bennett. The meeting was adjourned at 8:30 p.m. and the next meeting is scheduled for June in Rumford.

Okay people, here it is -- the summer church public suppers.

East Stoneham Church public suppers on Thursdays; June 17, July 15, Aug. 12 (turkey supper), Sept. 2 and Oct. 14 (Harvest Supper), at 5 to 6:30 p.m.

North Waterford Church public suppers on Tuesdays; June 23, July 6, July 20, Aug. 3 and Aug. 17 at 5 to 6:30 p.m.

Hunt's Corner (Albany) Church public suppers on Thursdays; July 8, July 22, Aug. 5 and Aug. 19 at 5:30 p.m.

Thrift and Bake Sales at East Stoneham Church start June 5 at 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will also be a two-family yard sale at the Nelson residence here on that date. We'll see you there.

Tack these dates up on your refrigerator or someplace to refer to and come on over.

Young Johnny Files from Oxford called on us on Saturday and made a nice visit.

Oh yes -- I almost forgot, Arlene Fisher of North Lovell saw a hummingbird today -- so they're here. Like a watched pot that never boils, I have watched and watched for them, but guess I was too anxious. Tonight, before typing this, I did see one out here so will go and make them some more food and get another feeder out.

That's it until next week.

IT ALSO MEASURES
intelligence.

This device measures blood pressure. But it also says something about your common sense. Because using it for regular checkups helps detect high blood pressure before it's too late, which is definitely a smart move. News from School Administrative District #44: Andover • Bethel • Greenwood • Newry • Woodstock

Telstar Regional High School Top 10 Scholars

Principal Theodore Davis and Guidance Director Elizabeth LaVallee are pleased to recognize the honor students from the graduating class of 1999, who have distinguished themselves throughout their high school careers at Telstar Regional High School.

Congratulations to these young scholars for their commitment to their studies, their families, their school and their communities!

Casey Lee Brown

The valedictorian is Casey Lee Brown, daughter of Lee and Patty Brown of East Andover.

Casey is the recipient of numerous awards, including the Maine Principals' Award, Daughters of the Revolution Good Citizen Award, Wendy's Heisman Award, Bausch and Lomb Science Award, and Society of Women Engineers' Award.

Throughout her high school career, she has consistently earned high honor or honor roll status, received classroom recognition for excellence in every subject, has been named as a Top Ten Career Week finalist, and has maintained nearly perfect attendance.

Her extracurricular activities include Peer Tutors, Freshmen Awareness Committee at Telstar, AIDS Committee, Graduation and Prom committees and National Honor Society of which she is president. Her athletic accomplishments include varsity basketball and softball.

She has represented her community as a Dirigo Girls State Delegate. She also volunteers at the Rumford Information Center during the summer. Casey is especially proud of her service to the school and community through such activities as the Senior Citizen Thanksgiving Dinner, the American Red Cross Blood Drive, Bowl For Kids Sake and AIDS Walk.

Casey enjoys reading, cross country skiing, and spending time with her family during her leisure time. Her future plans include studying either English or psychology at Colby College, Waterville.

The salutatorian is Emily Jane Phillips, daughter of Bradford and Carla Phillips of Woodstock.

Emily has received special recognition, earning the 21st Century Leadership Award and the Maine Scholars Achievement Award. She was selected to represent her community as an alternate to Dirigo Girls State and as a member of the Western Maine 4-H Dairy Club.

Academically, she has received numerous awards for her excellence in the classroom.

Her accomplishments extend beyond the classroom. Her athletic achievements include awards, such as 2nd Team Mountain Valley Conference Allstar in track, Coaches' Award in track, Rookie of the Year in basketball and Defense Award in field hockey. She is especially proud of being named captain to both the basketball and track teams.

Her extracurricular activities are many and varied, including president of her class, editor of the yearbook, Freshmen Awareness Committee at Telstar, Graduation and Prom committees and National Honor Society.

Emily enjoys photography and caring for her animals. She plans to attend a four year college in the fall, studying either sociology or business management. Among her acceptances are Furman University in Greenville, South Carolina, University of Maine in Orono, and Roanoke College in Salem, Va.

Jeffrey Allen Chandler

Jeffrey Allen Chandler has earned the distinction of third honors.

He is the son of Jim and Jane Chandler of Woodstock. Among Jeffrey's many accomplishments is his outstanding service to school, church and community. He has been commended for the energy and commitment he has brought to every organization, including National Honor Society, Peer Tutors, and student government.

He has been a class officer as president and treasurer since his sophomore year. He is proud of his volunteerism especially with his church's youth group and with the National Honor Society, including The Senior Citizen Thanksgiving dinner, the American Red Cross Blood Drive and Bowl For Kids Sake.

His leadership has been recognized by the Telstar faculty in several different areas including his nomination to represent the school at the Hugh O'Brien Leadership Conference. His coaches are quick to acknowledge his contributions to the athletic teams, especially basketball and soccer, and he was named captain of the basketball team this year.

His academic achievements include excellence in subjects, such as history, English, Spanish, math and science.

Jeffrey enjoys juggling and kayaking during his leisure time. He plans to attend George Washington University in Washington, D.C., majoring in history.

Malinda Anne Gilbert

Malinda Anne Gilbert, daughter of Rebecca Doncaster Gilbert and Reginald Gilbert of West Bethel, has distinguished herself by earning fourth place in the class standing.

During her four years at Telstar, Malinda has been the recipient of numerous classroom awards for excellence in Spanish, history, health, science, computer science and English.

She has consistently made the honor roll and has been named an All American Scholar and has been recognized by Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Her role in athletics and extracurricular activities has been equally impressive. She has been a member of the field hockey, alpine skiing and track and field teams for four years, earning three varsity letters in field hockey and four in alpine skiing and track and field. She has been captain of teams in all three sports and has excelled in all three, earning Mountain Valley Conference Allstar recognition in all three sports. She has also earned state titles in track and skiing.

Her extracurricular activities include Freshmen Awareness Committee at Telstar, AIDS Committee, Peer Helpers, National Honor Society, Graduation and Prom committees, and president of her class. She has held officer positions in nearly every organization.

Malinda enjoys photography, playing the guitar and piano, singing, writing poetry, and being outdoors. She will enter Bates College in Lewiston as an early decision applicant, majoring in pre-med and English.

Philip Jason Bailey

Philip Jason Bailey is the son of Donald and Barbara Bailey of Andover. He has earned fifth place honors by maintaining honor roll standing throughout his high school career.

Although his academic interests include a wide range of subjects, his passion is music. Philip has been a star in the emerging music program, bringing his fine vocal talents to the Telstar Chorus and Ensemble. He has received multiple scholastic awards in music, English and history.

Philip's other activities and interests center on his family, church and community. He participates in his church's youth group, church services and choir. He has also spent many hours working on his grandfather's farm and has a keen appreciation for the land and his family's connection to it.

In his leisure time, he enjoys playing basketball, soccer, riding horseback and singing. Philip plans to attend Lancaster Bible College in Lancaster, Pa., majoring in youth ministry.

Julie Ann Burgi

Julie Ann Burgi, daughter of Charlene Burgi and the late Perry Burgi, of East Andover, has achieved sixth place in the class standing.

Julie has received numerous classroom awards for outstanding performance in Spanish, English, history, and science. She has been consistently named to the honor roll and was recognized by Who's Who Among American Scholars.

She is especially proud of her community service awards which include the Recycling Service Award, the Friday Book Club Award, the Andover Service Circle Award, the Rotary and American Red Cross Community Service recognition awards.

She has found activities such as the American Red Cross Blood Drive, the Bowl For Kids Sake, the Andover Educational Fund and the Senior Citizen Thanksgiving Dinner to be rewarding. Julie has been active in school organizations, including Peer Helpers, Freshmen Awareness Committee at Telstar, Future Business Leaders of America, Graduation Committee, AIDS Committee, student council, yearbook and National Honor Society. She has also participated in alpine skiing for four years.

Julie enjoys reading, traveling, crafts, poetry, and working on electronics and mechanics. She plans to attend the University of Arizona in Tucson, Ariz., as an undeclared major.

Victoria Lea Coolidge

Victoria Lea Coolidge, daughter of Judy Coolidge of Bethel and Victor Coolidge of East Bethel, has earned seventh place standing.

She has been actively involved in the school community, serving as a student representative on the Region 9 Curriculum Review Committee and attending state conferences as a Peer Helper and Rotary Youth Leader. She is a member of Peer Helpers, Graduation Committee and National Honor Society.

She has played varsity field hockey and has skied on the alpine ski team. As a skier, she earned recognition as a Mountain Valley Conference Second Team Allstar. She also was the manager of the track team during her sophomore year. Victoria has also found time to work at the Riverview Resort and the Phoenix Farm throughout her high school career.

Victoria has received special recognition for her outstanding performance in the classroom, including awards for excellence in math, science, health, Spanish, and English. She has consistently been an honor roll student and strives for perfect attendance.

Victoria enjoys reading, crafts, shopping and walking during her leisure time. Her future plans include attending the University of New England in Biddeford. She intends to pursue a career in athletic training.

Samuel Josiah Sayen

Samuel Josiah Sayen, son of Patricia Weidner of Bryant Pond and Murad Sayen of Bryant Pond, has earned eighth place.

Academically, Samuel has been an honor roll student and the recipient of classroom awards in English, math, computer science, science, and history. He is the recipient of the Maine Scholars Achievement Award.

In athletics and extracurricular activities, Samuel has participated in Freshmen Awareness Committee at Telstar, Peer Tutors, Mountain Biking Club, golf team, baseball and alpine skiing. In alpine skiing, Samuel was elected captain of the team and has led his teammates as the high scorer.

He has received recognition for his outstanding performances by making the Mountain Valley Conference First Team Allstars on several different occasions. He has also pursued and achieved professional certification as a ski instructor with the Professional Ski Instructors Association.

Samuel enjoys mountain biking and skiing during his leisure time. He will attend Fort Lewis College in Durango, Colo., in the fall. His intended major is computer information systems and business.

Heather Julia Best

Heather Julia Best has earned the distinction of ninth place in her class.

She is the daughter of Don and Maya Best of Greenwood. She has a wide range of interests which extend beyond the classroom and school. She is especially proud of her role as the leader of a creative teen movement group and as the originator of an afternoon school art group.

She is also proud of her accomplishments in Exploration Art class and in her various community service projects. Her extracurricular activities include National Honor Society and Freshmen Awareness Committee at Telstar.

Athletically, Heather has played field hockey, run track and field and skied cross country. Her coaches have recognized her hard work and dedication and have awarded her the Hustle Award in track and Most Improved in cross country skiing.

Academically, Heather has been the recipient of classroom awards for outstanding performance and excellence in English, math, history and Spanish.

In her leisure time Heather enjoys art, creative dance and swimming. She plans to attend Goddard College in Plainfield, Vt., majoring in dance therapy.

Stacy Lee Bachelder

Stacy Lee Bachelder is the daughter of Kenneth and Janice Bachelder of Bethel. She has earned 10th place standing.

Stacy has earned numerous academic awards for her excellence in the classroom. She will be best remembered for her outstanding community service. She has received the Prudential Spirit of Community Award and the National Service Scholarship for her work in the peer helping organizations, including Freshmen Awareness Committee at Telstar, Peer Helpers and AIDS Committee.

She is especially proud of her work with the AIDS Committee, raising money for the AIDS education, educating people about the disease and attending state and national conferences.

Stacy's concern and caring for others was especially evident during the Ice Storm of 1998 when she volunteered at the local hospital and shelters. In other extracurricular activities, Stacy has played a key role in Student Council of which she is co-president, National Honor Society and Graduation and Prom committees. In athletics, she has played varsity field hockey and varsity softball.

Stacy enjoys karate and softball during her leisure time. She plans to attend West Virginia Wesleyan College in Buckhannon, West Virginia, majoring in pre-med.

High School J.V. Baseball

Telstar 24, Mountain Valley 14; May 17--Pitcher Cooper Willard picked up his second win of the season in relief of Matt Newell as the Rebels defeated Mountain Valley. Bob Bean led all hitters, going five for six and driving in six runs. Steve Estes was four for six with two RBIs. Willard, Newell, Charles Johnson, Dan Zinchuk, Mike Swan, Josh Aylward and Jay Aloisio all had hits. "We were down 12-5 after three innings, but the kids pulled together and it was all Telstar after that," said coach Charlie Newell. "Charles Johnson caught two fine innings to give Bob Bean a well-deserved rest."

Gould 15, Kents Hill 14; May 15--Ben Murdock pitched a complete game for Gould to defeat Kents Hill by a single run. The win improves Gould's season record to 4-3.

Lisbon 11, Telstar 7; May 12--Telstar hit the ball hard but came up short against Lisbon. Bob Bean hit a 410-foot home run and Chris Szente had a 380-foot homer. Steve Estes had a triple, double and single; Cooper Willard had three singles, Dan Zinchuk, a triple; and Mike Swan, a double. Chris Szente was the losing pitcher, but pitched a strong game. "We fell behind early, but the players showed a lot of spirit and heart and played hard for seven innings," said coach Charlie Newell.

Reed competed in the hurdles for the first time.

Men's Varsity Lacrosse

MAISAD Tournament: Hyde 12, Gould 1; May 15--Gould travelled to Bath to take on top-ranked Hyde School in the first round of the MAISAD tournament. In spite of new offensive and defensive tactics, the team could not clear the ball easily and Hyde controlled the ball throughout the game, scoring 12 goals. Tristan Fischer played an aggressive game, scoring Gould's only goal. The team will end its season on Saturday when they take on the Gould Alumni Lacrosse team at 1:00 p.m.

Hebron 7, Gould 6; May 12--The men's varsity lacrosse team outscored the Hebron Lumberjacks 4-2 in the second half, but could not overcome some penalties in the early going and a 5-2 half-time deficit and lost to the Jacks by a score of 7-6. This was the second time this season that the Huskies have dropped a one-goal game to Hebron, and the loss gave Gould a 4th seed placement in Saturday's MAISAD tournament. There were some strong moments in the game, as Captain Corey Felton, just back from an injury, notched two goals and one assist, Noah Siebeck-Smith scored two goals, and Orlin Watson and Angus Graham scored one apiece.

Women's Varsity Lacrosse

Gould 15, Sanford 8; May 14--Gould improved their overall season record to 9-2 with a win over the Sanford Lacrosse Club on Friday. Megan Flaherty and Jackie Scully led the charge, each with four goals and one assist in the game. Katie Davison also scored four times for Gould, and Laura Jenks had two goals and one assist. Caroline Riss rounded out the scoring with a single goal, and goalie Chelsey Bartlett had twelve saves in goal.

Gould 16, Hebron 4; May 12--Laura Jenks led the Gould scoring with five goals, and Jackie Scully, Megan Flaherty, and Caroline Riss each contributed three, with Sarah Marshall and Katie Davison scoring one apiece. Scully and Davison each picked up two assists as Gould dominated the game, taking 39 shots on goal and holding the Hebron offense to only nine shots.

Correction: Telstar girls' track results from last week's meet at Mt. Abram should have said Erica Gundersen placed fourth in the 1,600 meter race.

About the Business Person who Doesn't Advertise...

This person wakes up in the morning to the sound of an advertised alarm clock, climbs out of his advertised bed, and takes off his advertised pajamas. Then he takes a bath in an advertised tub, with advertised soap, shaves with an advertised razor, eats an advertised breakfast food, puts on his advertised clothes and drives to work in his advertised car. He then sits at an advertised desk and writes with an advertised pen. Yet this man doesn't advertise - saying that advertising does not pay.

Eventually, when his unadvertised business goes under, he will advertise it for sale!

Extra special birthday wishes to Logan Bru who is one year old on May 19. Logan is the son of Amy and Dan Bru of Mobile, Ala. He is also the grandson of Phil and Terry Merrill of West Paris. Richard and I spent Mother's Day at Rick and Sally Wing's in Bridgton. Tony and Troy Smith and Ryan Wing were also there. We had a nice cookout with steak and corn on the cob. Rick left for Yuma, Ariz., Tuesday, and Doug Wing is going to be going on Friday to work with his father on his job there. Later in the day on Mother's Day, Kellie and Brad Record came up and brought an ice cream cake and presents, which included a Grandmother's Bag Book with pictures of my great-grandson, Zachary Lynch. We celebrated Sarah Hart's birthday one Saturday night recently. Sarah turned 21 years old and also is the mother of Zachary Lynch. Sympathy goes out to the families of Calvin Smith, Merle Lang and Don Ryerson. They all leave a large family and many friends. Pete and Laurene Appleby stopped by one night for a visit. Pete is working as a flagman for Star Security this summer. We finally got our hummingbirds. I always associate that with the start of real summer. Jaime Monzo and Tim Hilden made the honor roll at Oxford Hills Comprehensive High School. Good work. Kellie Record baby-sat her grandson, Zachary, so his mother,

Sarah and Phil could go out with friends for Sarah's birthday. Larry Billings, curator of the Woodstock Historical Society, reports that at the May meeting Basil Sequin spoke on "Indians of the Androscoggin." He talked about their gathering places and commerce. During the business meeting members decided to let the building committee handle the clothespin sign. Olive Risko gave a research report. Donations came from Steve Chase and Evelyn Bean. Curator Larry Billings will read poetry in June. Quote of the Week: "I've learned that a recession is a period when we have to go without things our grandparents never heard of."

What a delightful picture of Peter Misner on the front page of last week's Citizen. I am so glad Mike and Sashi bought my little house. They have made a great addition to the community and have made so many improvements to the house, one would hardly know it was the same place. Way to go Misner's. I am glad Bob Coolidge wrote in to congratulate those who have made the Town Common so lovely. It is now a place to be proud of. Andy was just commenting the day before the paper came out that the common was uncommonly beautiful this year. (You may all groan at the pun.) In recent years, efforts have been made to improve the looks of our town and we all should be grateful for the results.

Andy and I spent Wednesday in Lewiston at Fred and Ellie Peterson's where Andy has been helping Ellie with the yard work. Since we had to have some minor work (I say minor, but by the time the mechanics figure out why the seat belt light comes on when one plugs one belt into the other instead of going out they may not consider it so minor.) done to the car, we made the trip in a little car we were not familiar with.

It was an interesting trip. The car looked and ran great but it had no power steering, which I discovered I missed when making some turns that required more muscle power than I thought I was capable of but apparently not. And the seat belts were in two pieces; one locking into one side and the other locking into the opposite side which gave one the illusion of being trapped into a straitjacket. It did have one redeeming feature. It was an automatic.

However, I decided I'd still go Route 111, which entails only four lights to get to Ellie's instead of the 12 plus going through the main drag, which was okay going in, but coming out I missed a turn and ended up, after myriad twists and turns, back onto Main Street. Then there just happened to be a train holding up traffic and I couldn't get into the right lane to go over Goff Hill, as someone maneuvered into the wrong lane. Some drivers seem to think it's okay to risk getting smashed fenders as long as they get to where they want to be. I'm afraid I'm easily bullied in heavy traffic, but I don't like taking chances, even more so since I had my accident. Then one lane on Minot Avenue was blocked off and I had to hustle to get out of the way of a car that came out of a side street expecting two lanes where there was only one. After that the rest of the trip was uneventful, which is the way I like them.

Kim Poulin and Kaylee were guests at a baby shower given at the Church of the Nazarene parsonage on Thursday evening. Games were played and refreshments served and Kim received some nice gifts. Those present were Gerry Shimamura, Mary Cobb, Stephanie Grant, Tammy Ward, Crystal Grant, Marie Ward, Lorraine Larson, Kim's sister Amy Ford and her mother Jane Poulin, and Debbie Grant, hostess.

My niece, Theresa Toti, of Harrisville, R.I., spent a few days with me last week to celebrate Mother's Day on Sunday, the 9th. Karlene Bachelder celebrated Mother's Day with her husband Ras, her mother, Julia Goodwin of Belfast, her twin sisters, Wilma and Hilma of Unity, Beth Bean and her husband of Bethel. Gil Seeley and Theresa Toti dropped in to say hello.

At this time of year, I usually pick dandelion leaves. Dandelion is loaded with vitamins A, B, C and G, a lot of iron and other minerals, and prevents cataracts. It's good for kidney disease and dropsy. In ancient times it was prescribed to help treat stones. The leaves should be picked when young and tender. But this year, they bloomed too soon; they are small, tough and bitter, not very good. I guess I'll wait and pick strawberry leaves to make tea. They are a good source of vitamin C.

Mason Township

Last Wednesday, the hills around "the farm" in Mason rang with the sound of little people's voices. Rupert and Ina were pleased to have eight of their nine great-grandchildren and their parents for the afternoon. The ages of the little tykes ranged from about three weeks (Chase Cole, born April 15) to almost five years old (Megan and Emma Cole, twins, will be five in July). Little Madison Flynn, one year old, arrived in Mason from North Carolina on Mother's Day with her parents, Eileen and Chris, and spent the week with grandparents Don and Elsie Aylward. Jacob and Samuel Solmiz came up for the afternoon with their mom, Jessica. Amy Hanscom was there with baby Kristi, and Dianne Merrill brought her stepdaughter, Mackenzie.

The little ones' activities ranged from playing with dolls and trucks to catching frogs in the little farm pond. Many a frog has been caught in that pond over the years, and some of them even seem to enjoy being caught. MacKenzie and Megan were the two most active frog pursuers, and Megan took off her shoes and waded after them, even though it was one of those raw, windy spring days when jackets were the uniform of the day. Megan's mother, Becky, saw her in the water and came down to check out the situation. Becky: "What are you doing in the water with your good clothes on?" Megan: "Catchin' frogs. But I took my shoes off." Becky: "But you got your pants all wet." Undeterred by Becky's visit, Megan and MacKenzie spent most of the afternoon in pursuit of the little green amphibians.

This has definitely been an uncommonly beautiful spring. Rarely have we been blessed with so many warm, sunny days. The only hour note has been the need for more rain. Hopefully, it will arrive and bring out our garden seedlings.

Over the weekend, we took advantage of the warm weather and the decrease in traffic to get out the bicycles. It felt good to be on the road, closer to nature than automobiles allow. It is much easier to watch the spring growth from a bicycle than behind the wheel of a car, especially when one is the driver. We rode down the valley a ways and tested out our new, or new-to-us bikes. It was a great day for it.

Friday night, I had the privilege of attending the CMTC graduation and watching some of the students I'd had in class, over the last two years, graduate. Some of those I thought would never stick it out, and those I knew would make it, graduated. It was a short but good ceremony with Lou McNally as the guest speaker.

The critters are back in the yard. Tasha is delighted, but is anxious to get them to play. I had all I could do, yesterday, to keep her from going under the fence. She likes to rub noses with her favorite calves. Perhaps later today she can find the spot at which she can get close enough, without going under the fence. With the new wire up, the calves can only get close to the fence at certain points. That keeps them safe and Tasha out of trouble.

Becca Carter stopped by to look at Mixed Nuts, the CMTC literary magazine that comes out every spring. Becca has three or four photos in the magazine. It has just come out, and she hadn't seen it, yet.

Pat Early and friend Richard were over at the Nowlin's, yesterday, giving the grass a haircut. Pat couldn't get the tractor going, so it was a hand mower job. With the size of the field and the bugs starting to bite, it was no easy job.

We had the sad job, yesterday, of helping Neighbor Nancy move and become Ex-Neighbor Nancy. It's been great having her next door and having someone near by with whom to go hiking and walking. We wish her well in her new digs out there in the wilds of Gilead. I hope the next tenant that Julie and Ed get is as nice.

This month there will be a change in the Bethel Area Poets Society schedule. The May reading will be on Wednesday, May 26, at 7 p.m. at the Bethel Library. (Café DiCocoa is closed for the month). As usual, all are welcome.

That's all for now. Enjoy the good weather and let's hope the rain storm, predicted on Wednesday, comes.

Moses Mason House

The Bethel Historical Society will hold a St. Never's Day Yard Sale on Saturday, May 22, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to benefit the capital campaign on the porch of the Robinson House next to the Dr. Moses Mason House.

Donations for the sale are still being accepted. If anyone has anything in good condition (no clothes please), he or she wishes to donate, please leave it on the side porch of the Robinson House or call the society office for pick-up (824-2908).

The 20th annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show will be held on Saturday, May 29, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Dr. Moses Mason House. Students in SAD44 elementary classes (Grades 1-6) are eligible to compete for cash prizes. The theme this year is covered bridges. Every entry should relate in some way to this theme. Horses, wagons, oxen and people can be shown crossing them as they did in the past. Mountains, rivers, flowers, rocks, etc., may also be part of an entry. Further information may be obtained by calling the society office. This contest is among several programs sponsored by the society and designed to encourage student interest in the local and regional past.

During this month, the offices of the Bethel Historical Society will move to the third floor of the Robinson House. The offices of the executive director, office secretary, and bookkeeper will be in the Robinson House after May 20.

The Museum Shop will officially open in the Robinson House on June 3. The former office space in the Dr. Moses Mason House will be used for the research operations of the society, which will not move from the building until the new facilities are ready. The period house museum and exhibits will still also be featured in the Dr. Mason House.

Many thanks go to Bessie Bennett for a gift of a vacuum cleaner for Robinson House. Still needed is a medium-sized air conditioner. Those having a conditioner that they are willing to donate, should call the society office (824-2908).

Chamber of Commerce

Welcome to our newest member: The Appalachian Mountain Club, Marcel Polak, representative. Marcel's energy and ideas have been an asset to the chamber's economic development sub-committee.

All members and friends are invited to two upcoming Business After Hours in June. On Tuesday, June 8, from 5:30-7:30 p.m. the Bethel Animal Hospital will be welcoming us. On Friday, June 25, from 5:30-7:30 p.m. the staff of the Sunday River Adventure Center invites everyone to come and see what's new for the Summer of '99.

Education Committee member, Nan Timberlake, has been diligent about taping a Bethel Area Chamber TV show for Channel 4 each month. Additionally this month, Nan and her husband, Sam, taped the 30th annual Awards Dinner, allowing those Channel 4 viewers who could not be there to share in the excitement of the evening. Many thanks to Nan and Sam for their service to the chamber.

A newly formed committee, the BARS (Bethel Area Reservation Service) Support Committee, will meet on Tuesday, May 25, to make plans for a gathering of the chamber's lodging members. The committee is: Kathy Thrall, Irene McGrew, Cynthia Moran-Laux, Al Cressy, Matt Dunham, Peggy Wight, and our reservationist, Rosalie Holliday.

The chamber wishes all the best to staff member Emily Beers, who is off to work for Outward Bound in California for the summer and will be returning in September. We would like to welcome Kate Nickerson to our chamber team for the duration of the summer. Kate is serving as an administrative and events assistant -- please come in to welcome her.

Saturday, June 5, is quickly approaching and with it our second annual Bethel Antique Show and Sale. It will be held at Crescent Park School from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the gymnasium. We are seeking volunteers to help set up on Friday evening and Saturday morning and to help pack up and help folks move out on Saturday afternoon. Please call our office (824-2282) if you are available and willing to help.

Plans are moving swiftly forward on the other events: the 10th Annual Bethel Art Fair and Fourth of July celebration.

We continue to seek financial partners on this great community event. Please contact us for partnership exposure information. New partners this week include Four Seasons Realty, The Otten Family and Don and Kathy Bennett. Many thanks to them for their support. The 10th annual Textron Financial/Bethel Area Chamber Golf Classic Committee has been meeting weekly in preparation for our July 13 event. Textron Financial is our title sponsor this year. Mead and Bank of Boston are Major Sponsors and other sponsors to date include: Norway Savings Bank, Northeast Bank, Coca Cola Bottling, Isaacson Structural Steel, Ingersoll Rand, Ecolab, Central Distributors, Bethel Inn & Country Club, Bruegan, Sherwin Williams, Wild River Realty, Unicef, American Skiing Company, Sunday River Ski Resort, W.J. Wheeler Co. and Gallant Furniture.

White Mountain National Forest

Kids age 15 and under are invited to try their luck fishing at the free Fishing Derby, June 12, from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. at Wildcat Pond, located at the Wildcat Mountain Ski Area on Route 16 in Pinkham Notch, N.H.

Jay Milot, U.S. Forest Service biologist, encourages everyone to "come on out and enjoy the great outdoors, learn about fish and the sporting way to catch them, and get in some free fishing. We're looking forward to having a lot of fun and hope the whole family will turn out to help us celebrate National Fishing Week."

There will be learning clinics, a casting contest and lots of prizes. Young anglers will be treated to a special appearance by Woodsey Owl to learn how to "lend a hand... care for the land." Children should bring their fishing gear and an adult. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m.

This eighth annual free fishing day is sponsored by the White Mountain National Forest, the Gorham Fur, Feather and Fin Club, N.H. Fish and Game and Wildcat Mountain Ski Area. For more information please call the U.S. Forest Service at (603) 466-2713; TTY (603) 466-2856.

U.M. Cooperative Extension

The University of Maine Cooperative Extension is sponsoring a short course for herb growers. This 10-week long series will assist Maine growers in learning how to successfully grow, process and market herbs as a business. The course will meet from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. every other Wednesday starting June 16 at locations across Central Maine.

One-half of the course will be devoted to the practical aspects of growing and marketing organic herbs. Topics to be covered include managing soils and fertility, botany, cover cropping and developing a business plan. The remaining sessions will be spent making site visits and talking with guest speakers who grow and market fresh and dried culinary herbs, decorative or craft herbs for items such as wreaths or potpourris, medicinal herbs and herbs for cosmetic products such as creams and hair rinses.

The keynote speaker will be Tim Blakely, from the National Center for the Preservation of Medicinal Herbs and the co-author of "Medicinal Herbs in the Garden, Field and Marketplace."

The cost for the course is $100. For more information, or to receive a registration form, please call the Extension office at 743-6329 or 800-287-1482. Space is limited to the first 30 registrants.

Bethel Boy Scout Troop 565

Bethel's Boy Scout Troop 565 spent last week at Camp Gustin, a Boy Scout camp in Sabattus. They took part in the annual spring camporee of the Abnaki District, which covers Oxford and Androscoggin counties. The camporee started Friday night and lasted until Sunday morning.

The theme for this year was Tour di Abnaki, and true to its name the boys and leaders spent Saturday peddling 16 miles through Lewiston, Greene and Sabattus. While on their bicycles, the boys had to compete in six timed activities showing their bicycle and scout skills. The less time it took to perform each activity, the more points the boys received. The patrol with the highest point total at the end of the day received ribbons.

Two patrols from Bethel's Troop 565 participated. The "Flaming Arrows" had three boys: Jonathan Stevens from West Paris, Mark Tanguay and Adam Tanguay both of Albany. The "Road Runners" also had three boys: Bradley Chamberlain from Albany, Brandon Roberts and Jason Howe from Bethel. Gene and Lorraine Tanguay went as leaders.

The boys were required to prepare all of their own meals during the weekend. The highlight of the weekend's meals came Saturday night after the bike trek. The Road Runners made a chicken stew from scratch and the Flaming Arrows made chicken cordon bleu with rice pilaf, also from scratch. Based on response from visitors to the camp site, who sampled the meals, both troops were confirmed a success.

After sunset Saturday night the boys were entertained at a campfire. New leaders in training performed songs and skits. The highlight of the campfire was the OA call-out ceremony. "OA" stands for Order of the Arrow. It is a national honorary society for Boy Scouts. The only way a boy can join OA is to be elected by his Boy Scout peers. The boys elected this year did not know until their names were called. The solemn ceremony, with the OA team in full Native American regalia, announced the names of Jonathan Stevens and John Poland, who joined the electees. Mark Tanguay and Adam Tanguay were already members of OA and also on the ceremony team.

Sunday morning, the troop fulfilled its requirements for a scout to be revariant and attended morning vesper services. After the services, awards were given out and the camporee closed. The Road Runner patrol received second place overall.

The scoutmaster wants Bethel area residents to know that Troop 565 is open to all boys ages 11 to 18. They meet Sunday nights at West Parish Congregational Church from 6 to 7:30, unless they are out camping.

Bethel Senior Citizens

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met on May 12 at the Town and Country Inn in Shelburne, N.H. for their 37th annual meeting and dinner with 70 members present. President Helen Saunders conducted the meeting and led the salute to the flag. Rudy Royer gave the blessing. Cakes were furnished by Tillie Meyers.

Reports were given by Jane Hosterman, Rudy Royer, Tillie Meyers and Arlene Lowell.

The names of the charter members were read, also the members who are 90 and over.

President Helen Saunders presented Sarah Stevens a gift from the club for her faithful service to the club.

Humorous readings were read by Lindley Wieden, Jane Hosterman and Cecile Lescault.

The door prize was won by Verna Thayer and the raffle, which was a painting donated by Helen Morton, was won by Tillie Meyers.

Tillie Meyers provided the entertainment, which was enjoyed by all. May birthdays are: Barbara Brown, Dan Davis, Freda Davis, Harlan Hutchins, Marion Kimball, Mellen Kimball, Lois Leavitt, Cecile Lescault, Tillie Meyers, Rudy Royer, Louise Twitchell, Don Vautour, Joan Wilson and Marie Witter.

The June bus trip to the Balsams and The Shrine in Colebrook will leave the Bethel Health Center at 8 a.m.

The next meeting will be June 9 at the Shelburne Town Hall, Shelburne, N.H., at 11 a.m. Cost of the dinner is $8.

WESTERN MAINE HEALTH

REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY

DEAR NEIGHBOR:

1998 was an exciting year for Western Maine Health. With a commitment to offering exceptional care, exceptionally close to home, we embarked on a number of ambitious initiatives, from upgrading the quality of our technology to increasing community participation in fitness programs. We hired several outstanding new physicians and, more recently, a highly qualified administrator for our Market Square Health Care Center in South Paris. And we saw some of our most dedicated professionals receive statewide recognition for excellence in their fields.

We honor and thank all those who have enabled us to grow and improve - our dedicated team of outstanding physicians and healthcare professionals and the hundreds of volunteers who donated so generously of their time and caring.

As 1999 unfolds and the new millennium approaches, you can be sure that Western Maine Health will continue to push the standards of excellence ever higher. Offering the very latest technology and procedures, hiring the most respected healthcare professionals, working all the time to offer the best state-of-the-art healthcare here in the Oxford Hills area. We're doing it all ... for you.

Timothy A. Churchill
PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Richard H. Penley
CHAIRMAN

GROWING ... IMPROVING ... AND CONTINUING TO REACH OUT ... to you

In our quest to offer exceptional care, exceptionally close to home, we continue to add the very best people to our team. In the past year, we made several outstanding additions to the WMH family.

Herb Boté, M.D. joined Central Maine Orthopaedics (formerly Western Maine Orthopaedics).

Anthony T. Zimmerman, M.D. and Laura Jett, M.D. joined the team at Western Maine Family Practice.

Christopher Short, D.O. joined the staff at Oxford Hills Family Practice.

And Nancy Seeley, R.N., M.B.A., was hired early this year as the administrator of Market Square Health Care Center in South Paris.

PASSPORT TO FITNESS PARTICIPANTS: HERE'S to you!

Back in May of 1998, Western Maine Health initiated a unique new lifestyle program for the community. Called Passport to Fitness, the three-month program was designed to help community residents develop a fitness regimen as part of their weekly routine. Three corporate sponsors - Norway Savings Bank, New Balance, and LeClerc Management - added their support.

The goal was to have all participants log a grand total of 7,000 miles - the equivalent of walking from Norway, Maine to the country of Norway ... and back. Thanks to overwhelming response, the participants agreed to a new goal: to walk around the world, or approximately 24,000 miles. When July 31st rolled around, the goal had been reached. 455 registered participants, ranging in ages from 5 to 90, had walked a total of 24,250 miles.

Congratulations to all who participated - and special kudos to the top five walkers: Susan Batchelder (577 miles), Kathy Brunjes (525 miles), Pat Bradshaw (478 miles), Pam Stock (467 miles) and Earl Batchelder (440 miles).

1998 WAS A YEAR OF GROWING ... WINNING AWARDS ... OFFERING
NEW AND IMPROVED SERVICES AND TECHNOLOGY ... for you.

DOING MORE THAN EVER ... for you. IN 1998 WE HAD:

CELEBRATING EXCEPTIONAL PEOPLE, DEDICATED ... to you

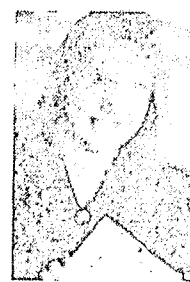

Last year on May 7, Western Maine Health held its annual Long Term Employee Recognition Banquet for more than 200 employees and physicians. Each attendee had provided more than 10,000 hours (approximately five years) of dedicated service to WMH - collectively, they had served a total of 4.3 million hours, or 2,145 years!

While these outstanding people are the backbone of our organization, we would also like to acknowledge the work of our volunteers and donors: the dozens of dedicated volunteers working throughout Stephens Memorial Hospital and Market Square Health Care Center, the clergy who devote thousands of volunteer hours each year to maintain the SMH Chaplains program, and the nearly 300 members of the Stephens Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, who donate thousands of dollars and countless volunteer hours to benefit patients, families, staff and the entire community.

We would also like to congratulate three truly exceptional employees, each of whom was honored this past year for their outstanding work:

John Even, R.N., B.S.N., Winner of the 1998 State Epidemiology Award: For his exceptional contribution to the reporting, monitoring, prevention and control of communicable diseases.

Ann Macroe, PHARMACIST OF THE YEAR: For her outstanding contributions to health care in Maine. For her commitment to state and national pharmacy organizations and her impressive commitment to continuing education.

JEAN FOSTER, WINNER OF THE FIRST-EVER MAINE LEADERSHIP AWARD FOR BREAST HEALTH: For the award winning work she has done for Western Maine Health for our patients and for all Maine women.

STATE-OF-THE-ART TECHNOLOGY ... for you

With a newly renovated Mammography Center and the acquisition of an advanced CT Scanner for the Radiology Department, Stephens Memorial Hospital continues to offer our community the best in state-of-the-art healthcare.

The centerpiece of our new Mammography Center is the FORAD M-IV mammography system. Using the most advanced technology, the FORAD M-IV system not only reduces the time it takes for mammographic screenings, but dramatically improves the image quality, allowing for more accurate readings.

May of 1999 will also see the addition of a new CT scanner for the Radiology Department at SMH. The new scanner, located permanently at SMH, will increase the diagnostic imaging procedures offered, complete multiple tasks automatically, and provide better image quality.

BIRTHPLACE RENOVATIONS

By Fall, renovations should be underway for a state-of-the-art Birthplace. Labor, deliveries and post partum will take place in one room, and private showers and baths will be added. It's all part of making our Birthplace more modern, more comfortable, more family oriented for you. Stay tuned.

PATIENTS AT THE NATIONALLY FAMOUS GEHRING CLINIC, which once operated at the end of Broad Street, dress as Mother Goose characters for a performance about 1915. The clinic was begun by Dr. John Gehring and his wife, Marian, in 1896 and continued into the 1920s, treating persons with nervous disorders. Among the most significant patients was William Bingham II, second from left, whose benefactions assisted hospitals and educational institutions throughout Maine and New England. This photograph is but one of thousands owned by the Bethel Historical Society, which also possesses an outstanding collection of manuscripts, books, documents, and artifacts relating to western Maine and northern New Hampshire. The society is currently raising funds for its proposed Regional History Center on Broad Street, which will also provide for improved storage and greater access to collections as well as rooms devoted to exhibits, educational activities, research, traditional crafts, and museum shop operations. To learn more about this project, call the society at 824-2908 or 1-800-824-2910 or use our e-mail address: history@bdc.bethel.me.us or visit our Web site: <http://orion.bdc.bethel.me.us/~history>.

LEARNED G. LITTLEHALE

Learned G. Littlehale Sr., 55, of Andover, died Friday, May 14, 1999, at Central Maine Medical Center, Lewiston.

Mr. Littlehale was born in Hartford, Conn., on March 31, 1944, the son of Ray and Natalie (Glover) Littlehale. He was educated at Andover High School and graduated in 1962. He entered the Army and was given an honorable discharge in 1968.

He married Carol A. Derouche on Nov. 8, 1969, but unfortunately, they divorced after 26 years of marriage. They had the opportunity to heal their relationship and became good friends.

He worked in the woods for several loggers, then at Andover Wood Products for several years. He had worked at Boise Cascade Paper Co. since 1984 and retired from Mead Paper Co. in 1999, because of his illness.

Learned fought a courageous battle, for over a year, against a cancerous brain tumor. He was always positive, even when the doctors gave him a prognosis of six months to live. He always said, "I'm going to beat this," and doctors were baffled, when he was supposed to be in a wheelchair and he was walking down the street with his cane, called "stick." "Stick" was always dressed for the latest holiday, which made everyone smile.

His biggest enjoyment was his children, Bobbi Lynn, Grady and Matt. His grandchildren were his pride and joy and Jordan, Ryan and Nicholas spent a lot of time playing with "PaPa."

Learned's passion was gardening and then giving the vegetables away. He loved being outdoors, whether it was cross-country skiing, chopping wood or snowblowing his neighbors' driveways, mowing the lawn or walking. He was a kind man and enjoyed helping others.

Learned became a Christian when he was baptized at the Andover First Congregational Church last spring. His faith in God was such that he never felt alone. He always said, "This battle is being fought by a lot of people, not just me." He received great comfort in reading his Bible and attending church on Sundays. He was an inspiration to all who met him.

Survivors include his children, a daughter and son-in-law, Bobbi Lynn and Mike Godin of Rumford; two sons, Learned Grady Littlehale Jr. of Rumford and Matthew P. Littlehale of Andover; his mother, Natalie Littlehale of Andover; a sister, Phyllis Spaulding of Andover; a brother and sister-in-law, Leon and Lois Littlehale of Marietta, Pa.; three grandchildren; an uncle; his friend, Carol Littlehale; and nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by his father, Ray Littlehale.

Funeral services were held Monday, May 17, at Andover Congregational Church, with Pastor Jane Rich officiating. Interment was in the Woodlawn Cemetery, Andover. Those who desire may contribute to the Andover Congregational Church, Andover, ME 04216, in his memory.

LILLIAN M. TYLER

Mrs. Lillian M. Tyler, 74, died Friday, May 14, 1999, at Central Maine Medical Center, Lewiston. She was a resident of Route 232 in Rumford Corner and had lived in the area for many years.

She was born in Rumford on Aug. 22, 1924, the daughter of Charles and Doris (Whitehouse) Burt. She attended Rumford schools.

She was married in Rumford on Oct. 21, 1941, to Richard W. Tyler, who died at Rumford Corner on Sept. 27, 1986.

She was a special caring mother and loved working in her flower garden, and she loved to shop.

Survivors include three sons, Richard F. of East Bethel, John W. and his wife Donna of Maine, and Timothy Tyler and his wife Mary-ann of Rumford; three daughters, Mrs. David (Sandra) Farnum of Bethel, Mrs. Shirley Pierce and Mrs. Irvin (Pamela) Soper both of Livermore; two sisters, Mrs. Forest (Doris) Swett of Peru and Mrs. Irene Barry of Rumford; one brother, Charles Burt of Rumford; 11 grandchildren; and 12 great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by a sister, Mrs. Edith West.

Funeral services were held Monday, May 17, at the Meader & Son Funeral Home, Rumford. Interment was in the East Bethel Cemetery. Those who desire may contribute to Androscoggin Home Health Services, PO Box M, Rumford, ME 04276, in her memory.

ERIC HANSON IN CONCERT

The well-known recording artist, Eric Hanson, will be in concert at the Bethel Church of the Nazarene on May 30 at 6 p.m.

Hanson has recorded five albums of Gospel music - some of them solo, some with the group "Rejoice!" Besides singing, he plays several different instruments: guitar, trumpet, keyboard and others. Some of his songs have been published nationally with Gospel Publishing House, and he wrote "Let There Be Light," the theme song for Congress '93.

According to Pastor John Grant, "There will be a variety of traditional and contemporary Gospel music at this event. The whole family should enjoy and be challenged by these songs and the sharing that goes with them. On behalf of the church, I'd like to invite the public to come and enjoy this outstanding event. There is no charge for admission. However, a free-will offering will be received."

For more information, Pastor Grant may be contacted at 824-3766. The Church of the Nazarene is located at 16 Church Street, just one block from the Bethel Common.

Thank You

A sincere thank-you to everyone who called, visited, sent cards, brought me flowers. To everyone who brought us in meals and helped me in my home, your thoughtfulness is greatly appreciated.

As She Graduates...

It's funny how lately time's passing so fast.
Reflecting on memories, re-living the past.
It seems like you've grown up overnight.
So thankful and proud that you're so bright.
Feels strange that you'll go out on your own.
Hoping you'll never be far from home.
I miss you already just knowing that time...
Has come for you to go on to shine.
It won't be easy. That worries me so.
But time has come to use what you know.
How lucky to be blessed with a daughter like you.
I've always been proud of the things that you do.
I'll miss you when you're not always around.
And thank you for never letting me down.
I believe that a parent should never let go.
I love you dear daughter, I want you to know.
I know that you'll be the best that you can.
I'll always be your number one fan.
Love Mom, D.J.S.

A Bethel Homeco

To better serve the needs of expectant mothers in and around Bethel, Cathy Heffernan - a certified nurse midwife and popular member of the Swift River Health Care maternity team - has established a regular appointment schedule at the Bethel Family Health Center.

With both an MS in nursing and full midwifery certification, Cathy has long viewed her chosen work as a calling - not a career. And after attending more than 450 deliveries, this mother of four still applies her talents with the same care, skill and dedication she's brought to her patients for more than 17 years.

To learn more about midwifery, or to arrange an initial consultation with Cathy at the Bethel Family Health Center, we invite you to call 369-0146.
